

Architecture I Spy!

SAN DIEGO
HISTORY
CENTER

Bum the Dog

HISTORY CENTER
KIDS CLUB

For kids who want to learn more about the community
in which we live.

As you make your way around San Diego, keep your eyes peeled for interesting architecture!

How many of these can you spot?

- |         |         |                             |
|---------|---------|-----------------------------|
| Arches  | Columns | Roundel                     |
| Base    | Cornice | Terracotta (red tile) roofs |
| Capital |         |                             |

STORY OF BUM THE DOG

Bum was a real dog born in San Francisco on July 3, 1886. He came to San Diego as a stowaway on a ship called the Santa Rosa. No one owned Bum but everyone took care of him. One day, Bum got into a fight with another dog at the Santa Fe Depot train station. A train hit them and Bum lost his paw, but he kept right on exploring the city. Bum was a friend to many people. He was so loved by San Diegans, his picture was placed on the city's dog license. His memory lives on with the San Diego History Center's Kids Club.

Join

BUM THE DOG
History Center
Kids Club

Bum learns about San Diego architecture!

Bum is always interested in learning about people who changed history and helped make San Diego beautiful. Explore with Bum as he discovers more about famous San Diego architect Irving J. Gill. Make sure to visit our new exhibition Irving J. Gill: New Architecture for a Great Country (open Sept 24, 2016-March 26, 2017) and find Bum in the galleries!

Irving J. Gill was born in 1870 and came to San Diego as a young man. He designed many private homes and public buildings and became known for his simple and clean style of architecture that used the beauty of Southern California as part of his design.

Ellen Browning Scripps Residence, La Jolla, built by Irving J. Gill, 1915

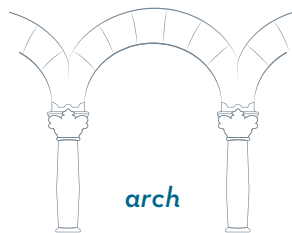

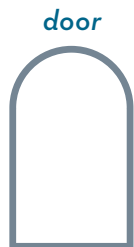

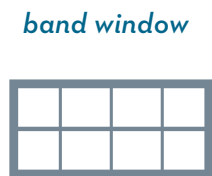

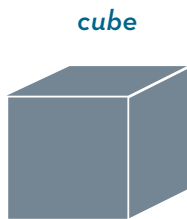

To sign up for your FREE Kids Club membership, go to:

sandieghistory.org/kids

You'll get an exclusive Bum the Dog Kids Club dog tag, $1 off admission to the History Center, 15% off Bum the Dog books and plush toys in our store, and invitations to special Kids Club programs and events throughout the year.

Help Bum build a new doghouse.

You can get ideas from the shapes and details Irving J. Gill used, or you can design something entirely your own!

Build Bum a new doghouse in the space below. See the Ellen Browning Scripps house above for inspiration.

SAN DIEGO HISTORY CENTER

1649 El Prado, Suite 3,
San Diego, CA 92101
619-232-6203
sandieghistory.org